What Happens Next?

1. The National Mediation Board (NMB) must rule that a single carrier exists for each classification we file for.
2. The IAM must provide evidence of sufficient interest for an election for each classification.
3. The NMB will verify the IAM's submissions and determine which employees will participate in each election.
4. With a sufficient interest from employees, the NMB will conduct separate elections for each class and craft. These elections are likely to take place at different times.
5. When the NMB orders elections it will announce an election timeline and send voting instructions to each employee.

The process, beginning with the IAM's election filing until the NMB rules on when/if elections will take place for each class and craft, could take weeks or months — there is no set timeline.

To stay informed throughout this process, talk to your IAM representatives, monitor the District 143 website, www.iam143.org, sign up for email updates and call the IAM election hotline at 1-800-392-6554.
